Plain City Line to be Extended to Box
• clder Capital by Midsummer.

(Special Correspondence.) OGDEN, Jan. 17.—Superintendent J Bailey of the Orden Rapid Transit company states that work on the extension to Brigham City will commence at an early date and that everything possible would be done to have it finished by the middle of next summer. It is the intention to extend the Plain City line from Farr West to the Hot Springs and from that point to Brigham. In thies event, some changes will be necessary on the present not Springs line and it is more than likely Pleusant View will be left off the line entirely and that North Ogden will be the training. The extension from the Hermitage to the towns in Ogden vailey will also be completed during the coming spring and summer. mence at an early date and that every

GEO. LOWELL GETS THREE YEARS FOR BURGLARY

OGDEN, Jan. 17.—George Lowell, recently convicted in the district court of burglary in the second degree, was sentenced Saturday by Judge Howell to serve three years in the penitentiary. He was taken to that institution by Deputy Sheriff John Hutchens later in the day. This marks the close of one of the most poculiar cases ever brought before a court in the state. Lowell produced several witnesses, including a lawyer and several officers from Sait Lake to prove that he was confined in the Salt Lake jail at the time the crime was committed. Yet the Ogden officers and half a dozen other witnesses positively identified him and he was convicted because of the stronger testimony.

IRON BRIDGE TO BE REPLACED BY CONCRETE

Ogden, Jan. 17—Under the direction of the county commissioners, the wrecked county bridge near the mouth of Ogden canyon is being removed from the river bed by the Wheelwright Construction company. The mass of wreckage, caused by the recent ice slide from the overhanging cliffs, is completely blocking the course of the stream and it is feared that unless it is removed at once, serious damage may be done, especially in the case of a continuation of the thaw which has set in. Holsting machinery is now being set in position and within a few days it is expected that the river will be entirely cleared. County commissioner O. B. Madsen states that a new bridge will be erected as soon as possible and that it would probably be constructed of concrete. It is thought that by the construction of huge concrete abutements on either side of the river the bridge span can be narrowed and the entire structure be much stronger than before.

MOVEMENT TO LESSON FLOOD LIABILITIES

Against High Water.

PROVO, Jan. 17.—There was a large meeting of land owners along the Provo river below the county bridge held in the courthouse Saturday, in compliance with a call made by the city council committee on irrigation. A. M. Carter was elected chairman and E. S. Hinckley, secretary. The chairman stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of considering steps to be taken, which will tend to prevent overflow of the river during high water.

There were several speakers, all favoring the straightening of the river and removing impediments to the free flow of the water, and objecting to dams being constructed, which turn the water away from the land of the persons who construct the dam and deflects it on to the lands of other persons.

persons who construct the dam and deflects it on to the lands of other persons.

County Commissioner C. H. Ward was of the opinion that the county would assist to the extent that it was permitted by law. He spoke of the necessity of having a right of way on each side of the river to give easy access to parties who have to go to the river during high water to prevent overflow.

Councilman Knudsen moved that the channel or river bed be straightened and confined to 110 feet in width. He spoke strongly in favor of a right of way on each side of the river sufficently wide to provide for an embankment and a driveway, in order to prevent overflow and permit persons who desire to frequent the river to do so without trespassing on private property, this land to be secured by gift of the land owners or purchased by the city and county. Several speakers spoke in favor of straightening the river channel and taking out sand and gravel bars in order to give a free flow of the water in the river. The motion was carried by only one dissenting vote.

motion was carried by only one dissenting vote.

The following committee was appointed to designate the lines of the river and to secure the expression of the land owners affected: James R. Glade, Andrew Knudsen, A. M. Carter and Charles H. Ward.

The following committee was appointed to ascertain what farmers and land owners will do in the way of hauling gravel and rock from the river on to the roads: H. J. Goddard, George Cook, Herman Knudsen, S. J. Madsen, Marion Clinger.

In 1854 they emigrated to the United States, locating in the city of St. Louis for two years, where they lost four children, which were all they had, they having burled two in England. Three of these children died in one week of cholera. She and her husband arrived in Salt Lake valley Sept. 24, 1856, and located in Salt Lake City. At the time of "the move" in 1858 they went to Sanpote county, locating at first in Ephraim and removed from there to Mt. Pleasant in 1859, where Mrs. Morrison has remained ever since. Her husband, William Morrison, died at Richfield, Aug. 26, 1889. She was well educated and taught school for many years in Mt. Pleasant. Too much cannot be said in praise of the noble work and labors of Mrs. Morrison, whose untirng efforts to help those who most needed help won for her the good will and praise of everyone who knew her. On May 11, 1868, she was called to preside over the Relief society of Mt. Tammany Boss Submits Names For Appointments and the Mayor Rejects Them.

HALL DOESN'T GET A LOOK-IN

Out of Thirty-five District Lender Thus Far Only One Has Got a Job.

New York, Jan. 16,-Since William J Gaynor was elected mayor of Greater New York, Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany, has paid three visits to three to city hall, but he has brought away hardly more than a cheerfu smile. Nevertheless, every Tammany office seeker continues to be told, "You must see Murphy first.

must see Murphy first."

The mayor is reported to have said to Murphy, "I am grateful to you for your support in the campaign. Any names you submit shall have preference. But they must be good names."

Under this agreement, Murphy submits the names and the mayor rejects them. In the first two weeks of his administration the mayor has distributed almost $200,000 worth of patronage and issued orders that will affect the distribution of hundreds of thousands more without giving Tammany so much as a "look in."

Out of 35 ddistrict leaders, just one has got a job. Out of the long list of newcomers appointed, at salaries rang-

Out of 35 ddistrict leaders, just one has got a job. Out of the long list of newcomers appointed, at salaries ranging from $5,000 to $7,500, just one is a Tammany man—Rhinelander Waldo, fire commissioner. And the first thing Waldo did was to abolish the private stable the city had been maintaining for the commissioner.

So elsewhere. Comptroller Prendergast announced on his first day of office that the subway was good enough for him. The mayor walks. If the city automobiles do not, demonstrate their usefulness they and their chauffeurs will go. Park Commissioner Higgins of the Bronx laid off 150 men in the first week. Water Commissioner Thompson has done away with overtime and Sunday pay. It looks lean for the small fry.

One bright spot, however, the Tammany men still see. There is no sign that the mayor will attempt to build up a rival political machine. Thus far he has not played politics. There remain two positions to fill, which, in the public eye, bulk larger than any of the others—the commissioner of police and the commissioner of street cleaning. Both are now held by McClelian appointees. William F. Baker has the police department and "Big Bill" Edward the street cleaning department. Indications are that Baker will go. On the choice of his successor must rest a large share of the successor must rest a large share of the success or failure of the new administration.

Thus far the question of whether this is to be a wide open or a closed town for four years has not been indicated. The mayor said in his campaign speeches that he favored a liberal interpretation of present laws.

The side doors were open on Sunday in the closing days of the McClelian administration, and they are open now Will they stay open?

Commissioner Edwards has been given two heavy tasks by two of the worst snowstorms New York has known in many years. The mayor has approved his work in handling them and may reconsider his early decision to name a commissioner.
